

Japanese Comprehension for Admission

At our driving school, we conduct all activities in Japanese.

The following, which extend from admission procedures through graduation, are all handled in Japanese.

- Front-desk explanation and various procedures
- Classroom instruction
- Behind-the-wheel training
- Completion and graduation examinations
- Directions and safety checks during instruction
- Other communication with and guidance from staff

During instruction (driving), it is necessary that students immediately understand the instructor's directions and respond in a safe manner.

Therefore, to ensure safety, applicants who have difficulty handling routine conversation in Japanese or understanding directions will not be accepted to the school.

Students are also not permitted to use interpreters during instruction or tests even if they bring one.

The ability of applicants to understand Japanese conversation and explanations may be checked before they are accepted to the school.

We ask for your understanding and cooperation in order to ensure the safety of you and others.
